TEAM SPAIN

...The World's Best National Football Team

The Spanish National Football Team, commonly also referred to as "La Roja" or "La Selección" is currently the undisputed best National Football Team in the world.

Spain's Golden Era started with the qualification phase for the 2008 UEFA EURO™ when the Spanish team started to establish the now world-famous tiki-taka - a style of football that is based on short passing, dominant ball possession and constant movement. This unique system perfectly matches with the physique and outstanding technique of Spain's current Golden Generation and has been brought to perfection by key players such as Xavi, Andrés Iniesta, Cesc Fàbregas and David Villa.

Since 2007, the Spanish team has written an unbelievable story of success by winning the 2008 UEFA EURO™ as well as the 2010 FIFA World Cup™. With most of their star players now reaching their prime, Spain's upcoming friendly and qualification matches for the 2014 FIFA World Cup™ promise to be more entertaining than ever before.
